Postal Shakeup Forcing Many to Retire

Unofficial reports tell me that the continuing confusion and unrest in the Hope postal district since removal of the terminal and sorting section from Hope to Oaklawn Post Office, Texarkana, Texas, is partly to blame for the voluntary retirement of 11 of the district's 40 postmasters. Another factor, of course, is a government offer of a cost-of-living increase in retirement pay for postmasters who decide to quit before July 1, which is this coming Saturday.

Nevertheless, it is likely many of the retiring postmasters would have elected to continue in service were it not for the irregularities in the mail and the flood of complaints from patrons following loss of the Hope terminal and sorting section.

I am placing in our complaint file another unofficial report which, if eventually confirmed, should have a major impact if Hope files suit to recover the lost terminal and sorting section.

The unconfirmed report is this: That while the Hope sorting section operation was transferred to Texarkana and seven experienced mail sorters from Hope were sent to Shreveport, the whole transfer business took place in defiance of orders from Washington, D.C.

My information is that a request was made from this region to transfer the jurisdiction over mail sorting from Hope to Shreveport, but the request was denied. Thereupon the transfer order, sending the mail to Texarkana and the seven experienced sorters to Shreveport, was issued without authority. No wonder, then, that a breakdown in mail delivery followed. I don't have current reports of delayed newspaper mail, but our file remains open.

Tax credit is favored by president

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon favors a tax credit of up to $200 per child as the principal way to aid non-profit private schools, primarily parochial schools, against rising economic difficulties, the director of the Office of Management and Budget has told Congress.

In a letter to Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Caspar W. Weinberger said Congress also should consider granting tax credit for fees paid to public schools.

A measure pending in Congress would grant a credit of 50 per cent, up to $400 per child per year. The administration favors a credit of 100 per cent, up to $200 per child.

Weinberger said the $400 proposal would induce private schools to raise tuition in order to increase revenues by capturing the credit.

"In so doing, the schools would reduce the number of low and moderate income families who could afford to send their children to nonpublic schools," he said.

Value of the pound goes down

LONDON (AP) — The British pound dropped to $2.48 today, a devaluation of 4.6 per cent, after the London foreign exchange market opened for the first time since the government's decision last Friday to let the pound float.

The dollar strengthened elsewhere in Europe.

The pound opened at $2.51 and later eased back to $2.48. Dealers said the market was busy, but more with inquiries than with trade. They reported relatively small amounts were changing hands.

The dealers said the picture would probably be clearer Wednesday, when most exchanges on the Continent re-open.

London bullion dealers set their morning price for gold at $62.30 an ounce, down $1.10 from the previous close. Dealers took this as an indication that the pound might settle for the time being around the $2.50 level.

In Switzerland, the dollar jumped to 3.75-3.77 Swiss francs, from 3.71-3.72 at Monday night's close. The dollar opened at 3.16 marks on Frankfurt's open market, up from 3.15 Monday. The pound dropped to 7.90 marks, down from 8.21 when it was last traded on Thursday. It was about the same rate of devaluation as in London.

House to vote on withdrawal from S. Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes today on efforts to order U.S. forces out of Indochina by Sept. 1 and to cut weapons costs by more than $1.6 billion below the level possible under the Moscow arms accords. Even the efforts' backers aren't predicting victories.

Before the House were amendments to cut President Nixon's money requests for the new Trident missile submarine, advanced B1 bomber, Safeguard antimissile system and other weapons.

Backers of the amendments, led by Reps. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., and Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., have argued that the U.S.-Soviet arms-limitation accords were supposed to cut weapons spending.

Nixon had asked for $22.8 billion for weapons, but the House Armed Services Committee cut the amount to $21.3 billion, with about a third of the cut attributable to the arms accords.

Amendments to order U.S. forces out of Indochina by Sept. 1 and prohibit bombing of water dikes in North Vietnam were to be offered by Reps. Michael J. Harrington, D-Mass., and Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill.

Airfield near Hanoi is bombed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes bombed an airfield two miles from the center of Hanoi on Monday, the U.S. Command reported, and other military sources said American raiders returned to the Hanoi-Haiphong region again today for the fourth straight day.

The raid on the Bac Mai airfield and adjoining warehouses was the closest to the center of the North Vietnamese capital in the current air offensive, the command said. It reported four warehouses destroyed and nine others damaged.

Other U.S. jets used TV-guided bombs to damage a generator at a thermal power plant four miles northwest of Haiphong, a communiqué said. It reported a total of 320 strikes against North Vietnam Monday.

U.S. reports of the targets hit today and the damage done will not be available until Wednesday. But Hanoi Radio reported six American planes shot down, five of them over Hanoi, and said some of the pilots were captured.

Hanoi has claimed 23 U.S. planes downed in the last week, 17 of them in the last four days. The U.S. Command today reported its first loss in the North for that period, an Air Force F4 Phantom downed last Wednesday with the two crewmen missing. But military sources acknowledged that search and rescue operations for other downed pilots are still in progress.

Military sources also reported that the North Vietnamese have begun construction of a petroleum pipeline from the Chinese border toward Hanoi in an apparent effort to counter the U.S. bombing.

They said the project probably accounts for some of the "new forces" which the North Vietnamese radio said Monday have joined the struggle to repair the damage done by the massive bombing campaign.

In the ground war, South Vietnamese forces southwest of Hue came under fresh shelling and troop assaults at two points early today, but spokesmen said the attacks were repulsed.

Saigon reported a total of more than 300 North Vietnamese killed in scattered fighting as Hanoi's offensive passed the 90-day mark.

James Davis is named to Hope School Board

James E. Davis of Hope was appointed to fill a vacancy on the local school board at a special meeting of the District 1-A board Monday night.

Davis, a timber contractor and buyer, will replace Wesley Huddleston, who resigned last spring to return to teaching and coaching in the Hope school system. Huddleston will teach seventh and eighth grade boys' physical education at Yerger Junior High beginning this fall.

Davis is married and the father of three school-age children; he is a member and deacon of the Rising Star Baptist Church. Davis is a Scoutmaster and a Mason, and is a member of the Army Reserves.

Martha: Star status dimming

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Until last weekend Martha Mitchell had been expected to be a star of the campaign to re-elect President Nixon.

But now there's not a single public appearance on her schedule.

The wife of former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell was quoted Monday as saying she has left her husband until he decides to quit as head of the Nixon re-election campaign.

She told reporters she was a political prisoner and "they don't want me to talk."

Mitchell and the White House have declined comment.

At Mrs. Mitchell's office in the campaign headquarters near the White House, her press secretary was not available. But a spokesman for the re-election committee said Mrs. Mitchell has no appearances scheduled for the remainder of June. "She intended to use it for free time," the aide said.

Earlier in this election year, Mrs. Mitchell was depicted by staff members as having more demands for appearances around the country than any other woman in the Nixon administration. She was expected to make numerous campaign appearances.

Mrs. Mitchell's popularity stemmed from a series of pungent comments she made while her husband was attorney general.

They ranged from an attack on Sen. J.W. Fulbright for his vote against Nixon's Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell, to complaints about women being third-class citizens—"We've never been liberated as far as our viewpoint is concerned."

Her comments usually were offered in telephone calls to reporters, and usually late at night.

Last spring she was one of the main attractions GOP women invited to appear at four Republican regional women's conferences. She showed up at two.

At about that time Mrs. Mitchell was reported ailing with a virus. She failed to show up for a big luncheon.

Now Mrs. Mitchell reports she is being kept out of the spotlight. It is her honesty, they're worrying about, she says.

McClellan votes 'no'

Bill to outlaw handguns gets committee OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved a bill to outlaw the commercial sale of small, concealable type handguns not suitable for sporting purposes.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., was approved by a 12 to 2 vote after the committee turned down by a 9 to 5 vote a rival measure of Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb.

Three bills offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to require the registration of all firearms, or the licensing of both long guns and handguns and of only handguns were rejected by one-sided margins.

The handguns used in the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in 1968 and in the attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace last month would be banned from sale under the legislation.

The shooting of Wallace during his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination spurred action by the committee on Bayh's bill, which had been lying dormant for over a year.

The only two committee members who voted against approval of Bayh's bill were chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Ireland cease-fire off to uneasy start

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A cease-fire in Northern Ireland's guerrilla war got off to an uneasy start today after the Irish Republican Army's Provisional wing staged a bloody show of strength up to the hour of the truce and some diehards sniped at British troops more than an hour after the deadline.

But the British Army believed that IRA "peace squads" were cracking down on their renegades to enforce the cease-fire. In some areas, the IRA may have even shot it out with the diehards, the British Army said.

The Army reported several attacks on troops after the start of the cease-fire at midnight Monday and said soldiers in Belfast hit a gunman in an exchange about 1 a.m. But no troops were involved in other post-midnight shooting around the capital, causing authorities to suspect that IRA squads were disciplined.

A cautious but unmistakable change in mood was evident as the truce began.

A man wounded earlier died during the night, bringing to 387 the number killed in Northern Ireland's three years of civil strife.

Youth drowns near Washington

An 18-year-old Richmond, Calif., resident was drowned yesterday in a stock pond in north Hempstead County, near Washington, according to County Sheriff Henry Snyard.

Kenneth Walker was reportedly swimming in the pond with five companions, got in water over his head, and went under. The sheriff's office received a call about 7 p.m., Snyard said, and the youth's body was recovered about an hour later.

Snyard said: "The youth was apparently not a good swimmer and just got in water over his head."

The body was transferred to Hicks Funeral Home; funeral arrangements are pending.

First with the finances

The first signed financial pledge to the Hope Centennial Celebration was presented to Marshall LaGrone, chairman of the Centennial finance committee, yesterday. Hempstead County Republican Women pledged $100 with 325 others and each July for the next four years. Mrs. Clarence Geisler, president of the club, made the presentation.

Large service firms affected

Price increase limit set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission has decided on a 3-per-cent price-increase limit for large service firms such as hotels, theater chains and auto-repair shops.

In addition, the commission has settled on a 2.5-per-cent limit on such professional services as provided by big law firms and accountants.

The commission's staff is working on problems of implementing the decision, a process Chairman C. Jackson Grayson said would take two or three weeks.

In any case, Grayson said, the ceiling would be retroactive to last May 21, when the commission announced it was considering the limit for the first time.

Grayson said the seven-member agency reached agreement on the ceiling at a meeting last Wednesday, but ordered the staff to go into all the ramifications because of the complexities involved.

Even though the rate of increase in the service area was low in the latest Consumer Price Index, Grayson said the commission decided to act based on a "feeling that this area has one of the highest potentials for inflation."

Only the largest service firms would be affected. The administration last month exempted most barber shops, small laundries and dry cleaners, bakers, plumbers and other small businesses with 60 or fewer employees.

Less than 5 per cent of the service industries in the nation will be affected, commission officials said.

But a study last month indicated the ceiling would affect 78 per cent of bank-service fees, 55 per cent of all hotel fees, 67 per cent of motion-picture tickets and 11 per cent of legal fees.

Other services touched by the ruling are architects, building-service firms, detective and protection service agencies, film-developing concerns, large laundries and dry cleaners, management service firms and real-estate brokers.

Demo writers reach for 'agreement'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic platform writers struggled wearily today toward agreement on a document tinged with Sen. George McGovern's views on Indochina withdrawal and domestic issues without outright endorsement of some of his more-controversial stands.

But, as it sought to fashion moderately liberal planks, the Platform Committee backed down hard an effort by backers of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace to put the party behind a proposed constitutional amendment outlawing busing for racial balance in schools.

Other Wallace proposals also were defeated, but without rancor on either side. Moreover, the committee made visible efforts to include in preambles and other noncontroversial sections the language proposed by the Alabama governor's spokesmen.

Mandated by new party rules to do their work in public, the 150 committee members toiled from 9 a.m. Monday until well into this morning under searing television lights and in view of a heavy delegation of newsmen and a thinning audience.

They substantially recast the preliminary draft submitted by a subcommittee.

Among surprise amendments was one calling for defeat of the pending welfare-reform bill, adding another obstacle to the already formidable ones the measure has encountered in Congress. Spearheaded by a group of black delegates, the amendment carried, 64 to 28. But the committee refused to endorse the proposal of the National Welfare Rights Organization for a $6,500 guaranteed income for a family of four. On tax reform, the committee voted to endorse "as a minimum step" the proposal of leading Democrats in Congress to force re-examination of most tax preferences by bringing them up for repeal over a three-year period. But the committee also called for immediate closing of "the most unjustified of the tax loopholes" and for Social Security tax changes that would rely more on payroll taxes on higher earnings and on general Treasury receipts.

It also endorsed federal revenue sharing with states and cities, easing of property taxes and rejection of the value-added tax, a form of national sales levy. The platform draft calls for measures to "deconcentrate shared monopolies such as auto, steel and tire industries," strengthen and enforce anti-trust laws "to break up multinational corporations such as ITT and other conglomerates" and study federal rather than state chartering of big national and international corporations.

Agnew blasts McGovern

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told Missouri Republicans Monday that Democratic presidential front-runner George McGovern "still insists that Henry Wallace was essentially correct" in his isolationist policies Wallace espoused during the 1948 Progressive party campaign.

Agnew told about 1,500 state GOP supporters that McGovern, a delegate to the '48 Progressive party convention, "opposed Harry Truman's policies that year but nevertheless seeks in 1972 to be the presidential nominee of Harry Truman's party."

The audience paid $100-a-plate to hear Agnew.

He quoted from a McGovern speech of two months ago: "If we had listened to some of the things Henry Wallace said we might have avoided the Korean war and the Vietnam war," Agnew quoted McGovern as saying.

Price Commission not considering further controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission is dropping consideration of any more controls on food prices for the time being, in the wake of President Nixon's decision to eliminate meat import restrictions.

But Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. promised a review of food costs in about a month to see if broader controls are needed.

Grayson said the commission is dropping for now its recommendation to the Cost of Living Council that the current price control exemption for raw agricultural products be lifted. He also said the commission decided at a meeting Sunday against further price controls on food. He said Nixon's move Monday to increase the supply of meat is a step "in the right direction toward price stability," but agreed with the President that it will take time for foreign meat imports to have an impact on prices.

Neither Nixon nor Grayson promised that food prices, and particularly meat prices, would be coming down soon.

White House officials said that, while Nixon has ruled out a temporary price freeze on meat and other farm products, controls could be extended to raw agricultural products.

Nixon said he would take "whatever further measures are necessary to prevent increases in the cost of food."

Grayson said nobody knows how much meat might be imported as a result of the President's action, and it is impossible to predict the over-all impact on meat prices, if any.

Ruling on three challenges set today by Demo committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union plans to ask the Supreme Court to reconsider its 5-4 decision barring a suit against Army surveillance of civilians.

Aryeh Neier, ACLU executive director, said in New York he will base his motion on the fact Justice William H. Rehnquist participated in the decision.

Neier said Rehnquist, a former Justice Department official, should have stepped out of the case because he testified in March 1971 about the suit before a Senate subcommittee.

The ACLU official said Rehnquist told the subcommittee that the suit was not properly before the courts.

Rehnquist was nominated to the Supreme Court by President Nixon last October. He was confirmed and took his seat in January. The freshman justice voted with the majority Monday to cancel the suit as well as a full-dress Army surveillance inquiry that had been ordered by the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said in the majority opinion that the four individuals and nine groups who filed the free-speech case failed to show they suffered injury. Burger said courts should not sit "as virtually continuing monitors of the wisdom and soundness of executive actions."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who helped argue the case in the court, described the decision as "unwise and wrong." He said he would introduce a bill today to hold military surveillance to strict limits.

That is, civilians could be shadowed by the military only on direct orders from the president and when necessary to guard against invasion and domestic violence. Another exception would permit surveillance of civilians who applied for jobs with the military.

Burger's majority opinion said the suit was really an attempt to use the courts to probe the Army's intelligence-gathering activities. He said it is the job of Congress, not the courts, to pass judgment on the soundness of executive actions.

Last March, U.S. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold told the justices the surveillance had been stopped. He called it an inappropriate use of military resources, but said it did not violate any law or the Constitution.

Justice William O. Douglas said in dissent that Congress has never authorized Pentagon surveillance over civilians. And, he said, "one can search the Constitution in vain for any such authority."

ACLC plans to ask reconsideration of court decision

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Credentials Committee of the Democratic National Convention prepared to rule today on delegate challenges in three states in the inaugural test of reforms aimed at fair representation of women, blacks and youth.

Challenges to the delegations of South Carolina, Alabama and Florida were the first of 30 to be decided by the 150-member credentials panel.

Although each case differs, the first rulings could indicate how far the committee is willing to bend reform guidelines to accommodate local party practices.

Leading the docket is South Carolina, whose 32 delegates were contested on grounds that the seven women, five youths and 11 blacks are not enough.

But a report by hearing examiner George Peach Taylor found only that "the state party has not taken sufficient affirmative steps to encourage representation of women." There were no reform violations, he said, in terms of blacks and young persons.

The findings by examiners such as Taylor form the basis for committee decisions, although each side in a dispute may address the committee for 30 minutes.

Alabama's 37 delegates were challenged by a rival Democratic faction which contends that minorities are under-represented and that there were irregularities in the state-making process. In that case, however, examiner William Walsh reported that the Democratic Party "has taken every conceivable step to encourage the broadest possible participation."

In Florida, a request by the Women's Political Caucus for boosting the number of women from 34 to 41 was backed by examiner Sarah Carey, who found that the party failed to take "appropriate affirmative action" on the issue.

The committee spent most of Monday settling procedural matters, including a routine vote to accredit 725 delegates from states where there are no challenges.

Three delegations, California, Virginia and Mississippi, argued their cases Monday before examiners whose findings aren't likely to reach the committee for several days.

Sen. George McGovern's Democratic opponents hope to wrest away 151 of his presidential nominating votes in the California case, on grounds that the state's winner-take-all primary violated reforms against the unit rule.

In other actions, the court: Set the stage for a wide-ranging review of obscenity next term. Six cases will be heard. Among the issues presented is whether officials can close down movie houses showing "adult" films.

Refused to review the annexation of 47,000 white suburbanites by Richmond, Va., in 1970. This changed the city's racial composition from 52 per cent black to 58 per cent white.

House rejects plan to stifle missile project

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort to halt missile and equipment purchases for the Safeguard antimissile system was rejected by the House today as opponents began trying to cut defense spending more than $1.6 billion because of the Moscow arms accord.

First was an amendment by Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., to cut all $350 million procurement money for Safeguard, primarily to prohibit a start on purchases for an antimissile site around Washington.

It was rejected 258 to 117. Earlier the House rejected by voice vote an effort to cut the last $247 million in a weapons bill for antisubmarine destroyers and thus kill the major Navy shipbuilding job.

DEPOSIT GROWTH GREATEST IN OUR HISTORY

Since January 1, 1972, hundreds of Hope Federal Savers...both large and small...have deposited more money in Savings Accounts than any six-months period in our history.

Other records also have been set, and we sincerely thank all Hope Federal Savers for their participation in this Growth period.

Net Savings Deposits will reach approximately Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars, a new high peak for this semi-annual period, and reflecting a bright economic climate for Hope and Hempstead County which we hope will continue for the immediate months ahead.

Hope Federal Savers will receive on June 29 a whopping $182,208.48 in guaranteed interest payments for the first six months of this year, topping all other records for any similar six months.

Total assets of the firm have jumped to a new high record, and by month's end will approximate $7,800,000.00 This figure compares with assets of $6,583,306.52 on June 30 of last years.

This is a story we are proud of...a story of faith and confidence...and Hope Federal, its officers, directors and staff...extend our deep appreciation to each of you who have made this record growth possible.

Mrs. Tom Kinser used blue hydrangeas as decorations in her home when she entertained her Friday Bridge Club on June 23. A club guest, Mrs. K.G. Hamilton, was also high scorer. The hostess served lemon ice box pie and punch for refreshments.

County Club 4-Ball Tournament
Golf was the name of the game in Hope this last weekend in June. The Hope Country Club 4-Ball Tournament was a big success, and a large number of players and spectators were seen on the well-manicured greens for the two-day affair. A dance in the clubhouse topped off the Saturday night activities.

Weekend guests in Hope who had come, primarily, for the tournament included Jimmy Jones, Jr. of Little Rock, who visited Mr. and Mrs. James H. Jones, and Jeanne Pruden of Shreveport, who was with her mother, Mrs. Jim Pruden. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shin and daughter, Paige, also of Little Rock, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al Graves, while Mr. and Mrs. Bill Montgomery of Dallas spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mitch LaGrone.

BROCKMAN FAMILY RE-UNION HELD

The descendants of the late George and Josephine Brockman held their annual family reunion Sunday, June 25, at the Sherman Deer Camp hut near Bodcaw.

The two surviving children attending were B. E. Brockman of Bodcaw and Mrs. Sadie McKamie of Buckner.

Others attending were: Mrs. Thomas Sheller, Houston, Texas; Mrs. J. N. Brockman, Minden, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McKamie, Wayne Jr., Andy, and Mike, Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Stiefer, and Mrs. Joe Marbut of Hugo, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McKamie, Camden, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Vines and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown, Kandi and Kim of Ashdown; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ware, Mrs. Barnell Sprayberry, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Bryant, Jeff and Debbie of Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKamie, Maleah and Mindy of Lewisville; Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Burke and Christy of Prescott; Mr. and Mrs. John Bill Jordan, Mrs. Dale Howell, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell of Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Vines, Buckner; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Brockman, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McKamie, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Vines and DeVonda of Stamps.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Riley, Karen and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Brown, Carol Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brockman, Rev. and Mrs. Joe Brown, Terri, Todd, and Tim, and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Goodwin and Gary, all of Bodcaw.

Coming, Going

Dale Middlebrooks visited his mother, Mrs. L.L. Middlebrooks, and other relatives in Shreveport Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Williams returned home last week from a 3-week trip in Florida, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Holt and family in Tallahassee, Fla., and saw a granddaughter, Tere Holt, graduate from high school. They visited Miami, the Florida Keys down to Key West, and, fortunately, were just ahead of Hurricane Agnes.

Mrs. Warren Basye of Houston is at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. B.N. Holt, and a brother, J.D. Jacks, and Mrs. Jacks of Hugo, Okla., were here over the weekend.

Mrs. Thompson Impson and daughter, Mary Ella, have had a lovely 2½-week trip to California, where they visited Mrs. Faye Powell and viewed many tourist attractions such as the liner, Queen Mary, Disneyland, the Movieland Wax Museum, the Johnny Carson Show and a Dodgers-Cubs ball game.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

Where Did School Spirit Go?

Dear Helen and Sue:
I'm one of those uncomprehending parents. Seems to me the school kids don't know how to enjoy life any more. They aren't interested in proms or class parties. Elections bring out few votes for almost no candidates. My son tells me a couple of offices weren't filled last year because no one ran. Even football isn't well thought of. The "jocks" and the "rah-rah girls" (cheer leaders) don't have the status we once gave them.

As for dating—well I should be happy because our son spends so little money on girls. They go in groups, meet each other informally, share expenses if there are any—but usually they just get together at the park.

Yes, they are good kids, but the excitement, the conquests, the winning, planning, dressing-up, dreaming about the big dances, making it as a school officer or prom king or queen—in short, the school spirit—where did it go? And, Sue, are high schoolers really having any fun, doing it this new way?—FORMER PROM QUEEN FPQ

Every generation has its own way of doing things. I think high school kids today are sometimes trying so hard to break away from tradition that they go too far and end up bored. It's kind of "in" now to consider school spirit "out."

I wish I could say this is because guys and girls are getting really involved in social problems and world affairs instead of "juvenile" school elections, etc., but for many that is more an excuse than a fact. A lot of them don't get involved—PERIOD! It's just too much bother. I wonder if it will be too much bother all their lives?—SUE

Dear Former:
True, traditional "spirit" is down in most areas, possibly because modern high schools are so big they've become impersonal.

Also high school isn't the be-all and end-all of existence it once was for teens, who now have a variety of interests: jobs, cars, increasing focus on college and adulthood. It's a sort of way station these days—a requirement one endures in order to reach the next step. So naturally the hoop-la and rah-rah are less important: to some—juvenile; to others—snobbish, for it creates an In-Crowd; to still others—useless ("Why get steamed up over elections when student officers can't change things?" they ask).

Comments?—HELEN

Dear Rap:
I'm one of the "over-30" group, but I have no complaints, only compliments for the "under-20s." Here's an example:

All year, students at Seguin High School (near San Antonio, Tex.) worked very hard to raise money for their much anticipated junior-senior prom. It takes a lot of effort, bringing in $700 from candy sales, etc.

Then they heard of a little local boy who needed a kidney transplant operation. His father was to donate the kidney, but this meant the family breadwinner would be out of work for a while, and there are four other children to support.

You guessed it: The Seguin kids donated their $700 junior-senior prom savings to help save the life of a child!

Later that month there was devastating flood and these same young people pitched in on clean-up chores. I say Hats Off to the main flow of today's youth. I wonder if many grownups would give so much so freely?—R.L.S.

READERS:

Let's hear it for students at Seguin HI! And let's hope they STILL get their junior-senior prom.—SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN: Hope "Former Prom Queen" reads the above letter and realizes school spirit hasn't died—it's just taking new directions.—HELEN

Poster contest slated

The Veterans Administration Regional Office in Little Rock and the American Legion Department of Arkansas are co-sponsoring a statewide poster contest.

The theme of this poster contest is, "Hire a Veteran". This effort of the Veterans Administration and the American Legion is a part of the continuing efforts in securing employment for veterans returning from Vietnam service.

The poster contest is a part of a nationwide contest in which the VA and various service organizations over the United States are participating. There will be four area contests held throughout the state with three winners from each area being selected for submission to the state contest. Each of the twelve area winners will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond. Winners at the state level will receive savings bonds as prizes: first place $100, second place $75, and third place $50.

The winner of the statewide poster contest will have his or her poster submitted to Washington, D.C., for consideration at the national level. The first, second, and third place winners of the national contest will receive a trip to Washington, D.C., as guests of the Administrator of Veterans Affairs. In addition, the national winners will receive the following prizes: First prize - $1,500 Scholarship; Second prize - $1,000 Scholarship; and Third prize - $500 Scholarship.

This contest is open to all high school students in public, parochial, and private schools throughout the state. For information contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Little Rock or your nearest American Legion Post or the principal of your high school.

Boyling it down

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Hiring help for the sprawling Nevada governor's mansion is easy for Gov. Mike O'Callaghan. What's tough is explaining to guests that his butler and cook are serving terms for murder.

It is part of a state prison work-release program that allows 20 per cent of the 661 inmates to work outside during the day and return to the prison at night.

"These are good people," says O'Callaghan of his unusual household staff.

O'Callaghan and State Prison Warden Carl Hocker agree that giving an inmate a chance to work outside during his term is far better than simply turning him out at the end of a sentence with $25, the state-ordered amount.

"It saves the state a little money and it's therapy for the prisoners," says Hocker. "The gradual release lessens the trauma when a man is freed at the end of his term."

All inmates in the work-release program are paid $1.25 each a day—or about $27 a month for their work.

There are few problems but "once in a while we have some difficulty downtown," says Hocker, citing a recent incident when an inmate tried to smuggle drugs back into the prison and another incident a year ago when "one of the men went into a bar and got drunk."

Few sightseers visiting the silver-domed state capitol ever guess that some of the electricians, gardeners and maintenance men they see are actually prison inmates.

Hocker screened the more than 120 men, and two women who fight fires, repair state vehicles, keep up the capitol grounds and work in the governor's office, the attorney general's office, the state library and the Department of Education.

"We're very careful about who we assign to work outside," says the warden, noting that no sex offenders are allowed and that all are studied to estimate the likelihood of an escape attempt.

Although the governor's butler and cook have been convicted of murder, most inmates participating in the program are serving time for less serious crimes.

Hocker says the former "are classic first-timers. They have committed crimes of passion which are almost always a first-time thing. I would have taken them into my home."

He said he strongly disagrees with some residents who view the program as potentially dangerous.

"Aside from all else, people who spend a lifetime working in these institutions develop a feeling, an intuition about people."

Hal Boyle is on vacation.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Edwin Stewart and Miss Pearl Hughes, Texarkana, visited Mr. and Mrs. O.L. Hughes at their home on Lake Beaver in North Arkansas last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vines and Randy of Denver, Colo., have returned home after a two-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. E.V. Ratcliffe and Mr. and Mrs. George Stroud. On Father's Day they were joined by the Vines' daughter, Mrs. Wayne (Nancy) O'Berry, and Mr. O'Berry.

Mrs. Jerry Johnson and 3 daughters are visiting her mother Mrs. Harry Moody at Odessa, Kan.

Lisa, Sheri, Leslie and Erin, all of Midland, Tex., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. David A. Griffin and will be joined by their parents. Mr. and Mrs. David A. Griffin, during the Independence Day weekend

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Eat eggshells for calcium?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb: On a television show they demonstrated how eggshells could be pulverized in liquid drinks in a blender. I haven't tried it yet, but wondered about the possibility of cholesterol in the eggshells. I am glad to hear about the calcium. I hadn't thought of that and I could use more as I seem to have difficulty in getting enough milk into me. We use nonfat milk and occasionally buttermilk and have tried to cut down our cholesterol intake in other ways.

Dear Reader—No, there is no cholesterol in the eggshells and if you like the particular drinks described I can't see any harm in using them to provide a source of calcium. Also, there is no cholesterol in egg white and it is an excellent source of protein for cooking. I strongly support the use of egg whites in the diet as a good, cheap source of protein. It is only the egg yolk that people are concerned about in terms of either cholesterol or fat content. If you want to cut down on the cholesterol intake you can use a lot of recipes that call for a whole egg by modifying them and using two egg whites rather than one whole egg.

I thoroughly approve of your using nonfat milk powder for cooking and other nonfat milk products. Although it is true that milk has some cholesterol and a high cholesterol diet is bad, milk is the best source of calcium available. The cholesterol in milk is almost entirely in the fat, and if you use nonfat milk you can get all the calcium you need without the cholesterol. I am sure you will find many recipes that call for a whole egg by modifying them and using two egg whites rather than one whole egg.

I was quite shocked recently to hear one of our self-appointed grand poobahs of nutrition explaining on a national TV show that skim milk was harmful because you need the milk fat to absorb vitamin A from the digestive tract. That theory is World War I vintage. Anyone who knows anything about nutrition knows that there are so many other sources of fat in the diet besides milk that it is almost impossible to have a fat-free diet that would prevent absorption of Vitamin A.

I am particularly pleased, however, at the great strides that large segments of the dairy industry have made in providing useful low fat or nonfat milk products such as the excellent nonfat dry milk powders that are available, the uncreamed cottage cheese or low fat cottage cheeses and the low fat milk of some of the fortified skim milk products. The fortified skim milk products are really quite tasty.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Miss Burke honored with shower

Miss Penny Burke, who will become the bride of Bill Bussey of Wilson on Saturday, June 24, was honored with a kitchen shower on Monday, June 19 at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Ralph Sikes. C.R. Samuel was co-hostess.

The honoree wore a floral knit gown. Summer flowers were used as decoration and a memory riddle turned, as it has at her other teas and parties.

The serving table was covered with a green cloth and the centerpiece was a crystal bowl holding chasta daisies and Queen Anties were fruit cups. Coffee cake, coffee and cold drinks were served to 15 guests. Mrs. Steve Holloway and Little Rock sister of the bride were also present.

IF FIRE STRIKES TONIGHT

It could be a disaster, of course. But not a complete one if you have given some attention to your insurance.

Now, everything up in price, repairs for your home would be no exception. Just be sure that your coverage will take care of these increased costs if fire strikes tonight or any night.

Tax angles figure in sale of Rams

BALTIMORE (AP) — A double reverse involving football franchises apparently has been set in motion, with only the Internal Revenue Service standing in the way of a successful play.

Every day, there is new evidence that the Los Angeles Rams will be sold and then traded to Carroll Rosenbloom in exchange for the Baltimore Colts.

On Monday, sports columnist Melvin Durslag of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner reported that prospective buyers had given the Rams' ownership a $5 million deposit.

Durslag said Robert Isray of Skokie, Ill., and Willard "Bud" Keland of Racine, Wis., would purchase the Rams and then make the trade for the Colts.

Rosenbloom, who had hedged about such reports in the past, then told Cameron Snyder of the Baltimore Sun: "I have made a commitment. We will just have to wait and see if it can be worked out."

The biggest stumbling block is whether the IRS will permit a trade of the two franchises.

If such a deal is allowed, Rosenbloom would forestall a tax payment until such time as he would realize a profit from the sale of the Rams.

A direct sale of the Colts would cost Rosenbloom a capital gains tax of $3.5 million or more, since he is believed to have pledged only about $15,000 when he became president of the Baltimore franchise in 1953.

Because of the huge tax saving, Rosenbloom undoubtedly will explore the trade possibility before talking about a straight cash purchase of the Rams.

For that reason, a report by Los Angeles sportscaster Jim Healy of radio station KLAC on Monday that Rosenbloom had bought the Rams for $17 million, seemed a bit premature.

Ali meets Quarry tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Muhammad Ali wagers $500,000 against a chance at $3 million after Bob Foster risks his light heavyweight title tonight in this gaming capital of the nation.

Ali, the former heavyweight champ, collects his half million for meeting No. 2 ranked Jerry Quarry of Cypress, Calif., at 12 rounds. Should he lose, however, he'd also undoubtedly lose the chance of meeting champion Joe Frazier in a return bout slated to earn each more than the $2.5 million they collected in 1971.

Foster, the 175-pound king from Albuquerque, N.M., makes his 10th title defense in meeting the younger Quarry, undefeated Mike, who has won 36 bouts and has just turned 21.

In the odds department, Ali is favored at 4-1 and Foster at 6-1 with not too much wagering apparent.

Ali expects to weigh about 215 and Jerry about 197 for the heavyweight scrap which follows the light heavy battle, scheduled at 6:30 p.m. PDT at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Conigliaro hints he may retire

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Conigliaro, suspended outfielder of the Milwaukee Brewers, says that baseball "started to become an unhappy chore rather than a pleasant way to earn a living."

In a statement issued Monday night by the Brewers, in Baltimore for a two-game series, Conigliaro hinted he may be contemplating retirement but said he wanted "to reevaluate my personal life in a perspective away from baseball."

The young outfielder was suspended without pay for walking out on the Brewers prior to Sunday's doubleheader in Milwaukee against the Red Sox.

Superstar Bobby Hull signs with Winnipeg

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The World Hockey Association has confidently predicted it will complete the biggest coup of its young life today by signing rival National Hockey League superstar Bobby Hull away from the Chicago Black Hawks.

It appeared the WHA was going to be correct. Hull's wife and children arrived in Minnesota late Monday.

The WHA and Winnipeg Jets called news conferences this morning in St. Paul and this afternoon in Winnipeg to sign Hull to a multiyear $2.5 million contract.

"Everything is as prescribed," said Ed Fitkin, assistant to WHA President Gary L. Davidson. "People will realize that we are here to stay."

Slayback falls short of dream

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Slayback is on a baseball treadmill. He keeps pitching more no-hit innings but keeps getting farther away from a no-hitter.

Recalled from Toledo by the Detroit Tigers on Monday, Slayback hurled seven hitless innings against New York his first major league appearance, but then needed ninth inning help for a 4-3 victory over the Yankees.

Johnny Callison's leadoff single in the eighth left Slayback two innings short of a pitcher's dream. But he was even closer to a no-hitter in his last International League start when he fell two outs short in a seven-inning game against Charleston.

Elsewhere in the American League Monday night, Milwaukee shut out Baltimore 3-0. Cleveland dropped Boston 7-3.

Minnesota downed California 7-4. Kansas City defeated Chicago 4-1, and Oakland blanked Texas 3-0.

Imagine the drama of the situation in which Slayback found himself. The strapping right-hander was trying to become the first pitcher in modern baseball history to hurl a no-hitter in his first major league appearance. It was like something right out of Hollywood, which, of course, is where Slayback was born.

"I heard Sunday night that I was coming to Detroit," said Slayback. "Then, on the way to the park, I heard on the car radio that I was pitching. It scared the heck out of me."

Slayback reported to Tiger Manager Billy Martin when he reached the ball park. "I was walking around on a cloud. He welcomed me and said, 'just throw strikes.'"

That seemed like good advice and Slayback did more than that. He throttled the Yankees on an assortment of pitches that kept them off-balance until the eighth when Callison opened with his hit.

Mickey Stanley's basesloaded single drove in three runs in the sixth inning and Slayback carried a 4-0 cushion into the ninth. He needed all of it as the Yankees knocked him out and rallied for three runs. But the outburst fell short and the rookie had his victory, just the way Hollywood would have written it.

The Tigers' victory, combined with Baltimore's loss to Milwaukee, left Detroit one game ahead of the Orioles in the American League East.

Skip Lockwood and Ken Sanders combined for the one-hitter for the Brewers. Lockwood, who also pitched a one-hitter earlier this season, lasted eight innings and Sanders came on in the ninth after the starter walked the first two Oriole batters.

Joe Lahoud homered for the Brewers in the sixth after singling and scoring the Brewers' first run in the first inning.

Ray Culp pitched five hitless innings against Cleveland but the Indians ranged up on the Boston right-hander for six runs with two out in the sixth.

A walk to opposing pitcher Ray Lamb started the rally and John Lowenstein's double ended Culp's no-hitter. After pinch runner Vince Colbert was thrown out at the plate on a grounder, Graig Nettles doubled home two runs. Then Ron Lolich and Frank Duffy both delivered two-run singles to put Cleveland in control.

Ken Holtzman and Darold

Knowles combined for a four-hitter and Holtzman's seventh-inning double drove in Oakland's first run against Texas.

Tim Cullen singled and scored on Holtzman's double to break up a scoreless duel between the A's left-hander and Bill Gogolewski. Then the A's added two more runs on singles by Mike Epstein, Ollie Brown, Sal Bando, Dave Duncan and Cullenin the eighth.

Holtzman, 11-5, worked into the eighth inning in the 100-degree heat before Knowles came on.

Cookie Rojas singled home two runs and scored another as Kansas City beat Chicago and knuckleballer Wilbur Wood. Bruce Dal Canton hurled a six-hitter for the Royals.

Eric Solderholm walloped his first major league grand slam homer as Minnesota outslugged California.

Vada Pinso had a three-run homer for the Angels.

Mrs. Gera still isn't speaking

NEW YORK (AP) — "Everybody's been looking for me," said Bernice Gera, whose career as professional baseball's first female umpire began and ended Saturday night. "I don't want to say anything now. I'm tired."

But Mrs. Gera added: "I'll talk at the news conference." The 40-year-old housewife from the Jackson Heights section of New York called The Associated Press Monday to announce she will hold a conference Wednesday at a restaurant near her home.

Mrs. Gera made her debut at Geneva, N.Y., in a Class A New York-Pennsylvania League game between the Auburn Phillies and Geneva Rangers, culminating six years of legal battles to break down baseball officiating's sex barrier.

It was the first game of a doubleheader—but she wasn't around for the second one. In the opener, she called an Auburn runner safe at second when he was caught off base on a line-drive double play.

Then, realizing the runner did not have to be tagged, she reversed herself and called the runner out. And when Auburn Manager Nolan Campbell ran onto the field and questioned

Barry's defeats James Mtr.

In Little League play last night at K-Park Barry's won over James Mtr. Co. by a score of 14 to 9 in the first game, and the second game was won by Sheriff's beating Greening-Ellis 6 to 4.

Wayne East was the pitcher for Barry's. James Mtr. Co. used Alan Moore, Mike Harper, and Stevie Banks on the mound. Leading all hitters for the winners was Paul Willis collecting four hits. Bruce Hunt was the leading hitter for the losers getting three hits.

In the second game of the evening Tee Powers and Willis Williams were the pitchers for Sheriff's, and Duane Cobb saw mound duty for Greening-Ellis. Hitters for the winners were Larry Rhodes and Jack Bain both going two for two, and the best hitters for the losers were Arthur Brown and Wesley Brown both getting one hit apiece.

Tuesday night games will be Lion's vs CBC at 6:30 p.m. and Walker's Ref. vs Hope Auto in the second game of the night.

his first major league start, stopped Philadelphia on six hits.

Chicago unleashed a 15-hit attack, with Rick Monday socking a solo homer and Paul Popovich and Jim Hickman driving in two runs apiece.

Gary Nolan became the NL's first 10-game winner—he's lost twice—by blanking Los Angeles on eight hits and keeping Cincinnati one-half game in front of Houston in the West.

Nolan drew a bases-loaded walk in the second inning to force home the first run. Johnny Bench singled home Joe Morgan in the third and Tony Perez chased Claude Osteen in the fourth with a two-run single.

Houston recorded its triumph with the help of the long ball. The Astros socked a club record-tying five home runs in the first six innings—two by Doug Rader, one each by Jim Wynn, Lee May and Cesar Cedeno—but that got them no better than a 7-7 standoff with the Padres.

Then they used three singles, two doubles, a triple and two errors to score seven runs in the last three innings, with Jim Wynn doubling the tie-breaking run across in the seventh.

The Giants posted their first three-game winning streak of the season when Ron Bryant fired a three-hitter against Atlanta for his second consecutive shutout.

Some of the other established NHL players who already have jumped to the new league include winger Johnny McKenzie, goalie Bernie Parent, center Eddie Joyal, winger Wayne Connelly and defenseman Brad Sellwood and Rick Ley.

WHA officials figure Hull's signing will open the gates for even more players to join a league that was formed late in 1971.

The WHA has franchises in Alberta, Chicago, Cleveland, Houston, Los Angeles, Minnesota, New England, New York, Ottawa, Philadelphia, Quebec and Winnipeg.

Wimbledon is a dream come true for Chris

By PAT THOMPSON

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Bobby Hull, the leading active scorer in the National Hockey League, signed the first half of a contract today that will give him $2.5 million to serve as player and coach for the Winnipeg Jets of the World Hockey Association.

Hull, the 33-year-old left winger who scored 604 regular season career goals for the Chicago Black Hawks the last 15 seasons, appeared in the first of two scheduled news conferences and was presented with a $1-million certified check by Gary L. Davidson, WHA president.

Hull, with speculation circulating for at least seven months that he was negotiating with the WHA, had flown to St. Paul on a chartered plane with Winnipeg club officials, and was to return to Winnipeg later in the day to sign a contract that will pay him $1.5 million during the next 10 years as player and coach of the Jets.

Hull's wife, Joanne, and their three oldest sons—Bobby Jr., Blake and Bret—were on hand at the signing, along with Ben Hatskin, Jets' president.

"People will realize that we are here to stay," said Ed Fitkin, assistant to Davidson.

Kerns wins athlete award

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arthur Kerns, 34, who was graduated summa cum laude from Arkansas College at Batesville with a 3.84 grade point average, has been named winner of the 1972 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Cliff Shaw Scholar Athlete Award.

The award goes to the graduating senior who has earned at least two varsity letters and who has the highest grade point average.

A WHA spokesman said the certified check from the league was financed by WHA Properties, Ltd. The spokesman said that Hull's contract with the Jets and the league eventually will bring him a total of more than $3 million.

McGovern backs off claim to win on the 1st ballot

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern has backed off his claim of enough delegate votes to win the Democratic presidential nomination and now says the prize still dangles just out of his grasp.

McGovern strategists figured late Monday that the candidate holds 1,492.75 delegate commitments, a scant 16.75 short of the number needed.

The turnabout came after a recalculation showed McGovern erred earlier Monday in claiming to have topped the magic 1509 figure with 1½ votes to spare.

His chief rival, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, clung to the hope that the party's Credentials Committee would trim more delegates from the McGovern column by parceling out the 771 delegate votes from California's winner-take-all primary.

Success of that effort, said Humphrey, who lags a remote second in the delegate count, "could change the whole ball game."

McGovern traveled the South today, courting Southern Democrats who disagree with him on key campaign issues.

He left supporters in Washington to protect his interests in the Democratic National Convention's Platform Committee, where they won initial acceptance Monday for planks in line with McGovern's viewpoints on the Vietnam war and income payments to replace the welfare system.

Before leaving on the swing through Southern and border states, McGovern told a Washington news conference he had won the support of 96.75 votes held by uncommitted black delegates—enough to guarantee him more than the 1,509 votes needed to win the nomination.

"There is no question, now," the South Dakota senator said, "that this is enough to put us over the top in July on the first ballot."

McGovern's claim immediately came under fire from dissenting blacks and a Humphrey aide who said the figure of new support had been inflated. Later in the day, McGovern strategists admitted the error.

The latest tally by The Associated Press of first-ballot strength, which doesn't include the new black support for McGovern, gives him 1,338.15—still 171 short of the number needed for nomination.

Anti-McGovern forces, particularly Humphrey, are placing considerable stress on the California challenge which, if successful, could take away 151 of McGovern's delegates and distribute them on a proportional basis among his California primary foes.

Burke Marshall, a former assistant attorney general serving as the hearing examiner in the case, heard arguments Monday and will report to the full panel on whether there were violations of the party's reform guidelines, specifically the one barring "unit rules" binding entire delegations to support a single candidate.

Ark-la hearing opened

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Public Service Commission opened its hearing Monday into a request by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. for a rate increase to industrial customers.

Arkla maintains it needs the higher rates to pay the costs of searching for new gas.

A utility economist testifying as a consultant for the PSC said the commission should not allow Arkla to charge rates that are calculated to provide funds for exploration for new gas reserves.

Edgar H. Bernstein of Washington, vice president of Van Scoyoc and Wiskup Inc., a firm of utility consultants, said the cost of financing further exploration for gas should not be a consideration of the hearings.

Melwood Van Scoyoc of Washington, the state's chief consultant in the case, filed testimony with the PSC last week contending that rate of return request by Arkla is excessive.

Arkla is asking final approval of an industrial rate of 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas. Van Scoyoc says 25 cents this year and 27 cents next year would be a fair return.

David L. Johnson, a rate specialist on the PSC staff, presented a substitute adjustment clause Monday that would allow Arkla to automatically pass on to customers increases in the price of gas purchased by the utility.

TWO ARE KILLED

CLINTON, Ark. (AP) — State Police said that Stanley J. Belamy, 39, of Shirdley, was killed Monday night when he lost control of his truck on Arkansas 9 north of Shirley.

Police said the victim was thrown from the vehicle when it overturned.

McGovern's candidacy and he said he felt that feeling is shared by other members of the Arkansas delegation.

He predicted that the delegates would want some clarification from McGovern on his welfare reform programs.

"They'll want to know how he proposed to finance his proposals," he said.

Bumpers, who is chairman of the National Democratic Governors Caucus, said that he did not think voters "are going to buy any welfare program that doesn't include a work incentive program."

Bumpers also said the delegates probably will want to ask McGovern about his proposal to cut the defense budget and his positions on the Vietnam war and amnesty for draft evaders.

Flood is final blow to railroad

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Recent floods in New York State were the final blow that forced the Erie Lackawanna Railway Co. to file for reorganization under bankruptcy laws, says John Fishwick.

Fishwick, president of the Norfolk & Western Railway and a director of the Erie Lackawanna, said after the U. S. District Court filing Monday that Erie managers have "done a great job against almost insurmountable odds."

"They just ran out of cash," he added. "The coup de grace was the flood. It stopped the revenues, and with the amount of money needed for the clean-up, it was the end."

The action came two years after the Penn Central Railroad, the nation's largest, sought reorganization under the bankruptcy law.

The Erie Lackawanna, with an income of $270 million a year and assets of more than $719 million, is the 12th largest railroad in the nation. It primarily carries freight, but about 70,000 commuters use it daily in New Jersey.

The railroad has been in and out of financial trouble since it was formed 12 years ago by the merger of the Erie Railroad and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, both about 110 years old.

Erie Lackawanna reported losses of $1.4 million last year, and rumors circulated a few months ago that the railroad would file bankruptcy proceedings.

President Gregory Maxwell said then that cost-cutting measures had been introduced and that the company would not file for bankruptcy.

Federal Judge Robert Krupansky ordered the railroad to remain in operation pending a court hearing July 10 when the task of appointing trustees to reorganize the railroad is expected to begin.

The bankruptcy petition said extensive storm damage reduced "immediate (cash) outlays of large dimensions" and cut the railroad's revenue by hampering train operations and reducing operations of Erie customers.

A spokesman said much of the damage was caused when 130 miles of track between Salamanca and Elmira, N. Y., were covered by water.

Clues found in AA skyjacking

PERU, Ind. (AP) — Law enforcement officers have located the submachine gun used in the hijacking of an American Airlines jet and $500,000 ransom, the first solid leads since their search began Saturday.

Officers resume today hunting for the young man with pock-marked face and open sores who they believe probably was killed as he parachuted from the jet over north-central Indiana.

Indiana State Police Capt. Rex Dillman, who has been coordinating local efforts in the search, said Monday night, "I'm inclined to start slacking off now. I'm pretty well satisfied the man didn't come down safely. If he came down safely and alive, I don't think there's any doubt he's out of the area by now."

Lowell Elliott, 61, a farmer, stumbled across a sealed canvas mail bag with the ransom money in a soybean field Monday.

The 45-pound bag had buried a couple of inches in an open field about 250 feet from a county road. "At first I thought it was a ground hog in the field," Elliott said, "but it didn't move so I took a closer look."

Bumpers withholds prediction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said he would not make any predictions on whether or not Sen. George McGovern will get the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot.

McGovern was scheduled to be in Little Rock today and had a meeting set with the Arkansas delegation to the national Democratic convention. He will also meet with Bumpers, who is the chairman of the Arkansas delegation.

The governor said in a news conference Monday that McGovern is on a Southern campaign swing to assure Southerners "he's interested in them."

Bumpers said McGovern probably wants to seek the support of Arkansas delegation if it is released by Rep. Wilbur D.

Mills D-Ark.

The 27 delegates chosen in a special convention Saturday pledged themselves to Mills, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

A poll of the delegates by the Associated Press showed that four would support McGovern if Mills fails to win the nomination.

Bumpers said Monday he did not know which candidate he would support if the Mills' drive fails.

"I'll cross that bridge when I come to it," he said.

Asked if he would try to persuade the other Arkansas delegates to support another candidate if Mills fails, Bumpers said he would have "to defer to Mr. Mills' wishes on this."

Bumpers said Monday that he has reservations about

Receding waters from the Eastern Seaboard's worst flood disaster enabled thousands here to return to their homes today, but crisis points remained at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Big Flats, N.Y.

The death toll from the week's catastrophe by Tropical Storm Agnes climbed to 123 Monday. Among the latest victims were three newsmen killed in a helicopter crash as they returned from surveying the devastation.

Drinking water remained a major problem in dozens of the hardest-hit communities, but the arrival of water purification units in some areas helped ease the need for trucking in supplies.

New appropriations of federal rebuilding aid were promised by President Nixon after complaints that the initial allocations were far too small. Estimates of damage run over $1 billion in Pennsylvania alone.

For the present, much of the relief came from people helping people. Marvin Eugene Peters of Scranton, Pa., brought hundreds of his city's workers to help man the food and medicine distribution center at Wilkes-Barre.

Food, clothing and medical supplies were still being flown in, the hardest-hit cities such as Wilkes-Barre, where at least two streets contained only one foot of water and full service was being transported back to work.

Waters spared by the flood in some areas flooded out nearby towns and cities.

In Elmira, N.Y., 100,000 in the flood-ravaged New York City area were ordered to evacuate homes and businesses. Workers attempting to clear a railroad bridge in the city were ordered to evacuate.

Opening lead—♠ A

By Oswald & James Jacoby
If a seventh son of a seventh son played bridge he would be absolutely unbeatable.

He would decide to open the South hand with one club instead of the normal standard no-trump and irrespective of how the bidding proceeded he would keep out of no-trump and get to five clubs.

South was just a good player. He looked at the 16 balanced points and made the book bid of one no-trump.

If North had been clairvoyant he might have found his way to five clubs, but North made the normal bid of three no-trump.

If West had been able to see around corners and could be sure that his opponents would stay in no-trump West would have doubled. But he knew enough to make the killing opening lead, the ace of spades. This gave him a look at dummy so he continued with a low spade.

South had to knock out the ace of clubs and West collected five tricks and 50 points on the score.

There was nothing unusual about West's lead from the expert standpoint. His lead was only unusual in that all books on play tell you to lead the queen from ace-queen-jack. This time there was no reason to make the book lead. The ace of clubs was a sure re-entry and the ace led guarded against king-small in either enemy hand with four to the 10 in the other.

QUICK QUIZ

- Q-What was the first warship sunk by a submarine?
- A-The Union steam sloop-of-war Housatonic was torpedoed in Charleston harbor in 1864 by the Confederate submarine Hunley, which then sank.
- Q-Why can an armadillo swim even though its armor makes it heavier than water?
- A-They gain buoyancy by swallowing air to blow up the intestines.

Cycling: A sport in full swing in Hope

The bicycling craze is in full swing in Hope, with shops selling bicycles reporting good sales on all models—from small, training bikes to two-seater models. Cycling, unlike many other sports, is not restricted by age, or, necessarily, by athletic ability. The "Cycling Army" around Hope includes youngsters, teenagers, grownups with their children in tow, and an occasionally cyclist with an attached basket bearing a dog or cat.

Cycling is associated with freedom, independence and grace; it's an easy and economical way to travel. But for most avid cyclists, it's simply fun.

AT TOP—Doug Rogers and Susan Prisock take to the road on a two-seater.
